About Ranger Energy Services, Inc.-

"We Exist to Generate Positive Energy"

Ranger is one of the largest providers of high specification mobile rig well services, cased hole wireline services, and ancillary services in the U.S. oil and gas industry. Our services facilitate operations throughout the lifecycle of a well, including the completion, production, maintenance, intervention, workover and abandonment phases. Today's oilfield takes more than just conventional support – it takes Ranger Energy Services.
